

The Dickinson Junior High School band is a more familiar sight on the football field than it is in this pose of its concert formation. But with the end of the football season the band is looking forward to an interesting schedule of concert and contest playing.