

INSTRUCTION ADVANCES WITH THE TIMES. Liz Caskey, a Dickinson High School junior, is practicing on an electronic printing calculator in her vocational office education course. It is part of the instruction, geared to the modern business world, she will receive on office machines including the dictaphone, the ten-key adding machine and the executive typewriter. As a senior she will be given the opportunity to spend part of the day in actual office experience with one of the business organizations in the area. The coordinator for the program is Mrs. Jeffie Dickey.
