

LAST THURSDAY EVENING at Dickinson State Bank 18 students received the prizes they had earned by turning in the top money in the Health Occupations Bike-A-Thon for Cancer, which was held Nov. 8. $4,019 has been collected so far by everyone who rode in the Bike-A-Thon. Mrs. Hayes, the HOCT sponsor, said the amount was double collected last year, thanks to the tremendous cooperation of many people. Three bicycles were donated this year, along with 17 other prizes from local Dickinson merchants. Top prize winners were: Craig Sandlin and Sue Whittington, from the high school age group; Linda Roberts and Rosalind Hobgood from the junior high; and Mike Odenwalder and Kimberlie Geisler from the elementary age group. There are still quite a few bike riders who have not turned in money. The Bike-A-Thon account will stay open for awhile for late collections. All the winners (above) are: (left to right) Brigid Kranz, Mary Simmons, Scott Hamnell, Georgianna Santarelli and Mike Odenwalder, first row; Frances Lorizca, Kimberlie Geisler, Craig Borne, Rae Ann Cain, second row; Mark Simmons, Linda Roberts, Rosalind Oobgood, Charles Kingsbury, Mrs. Janet Hayes, HOCT Sponsor, third row; and Sue Whittington, Maureen Bryan, Craig Sandlin, Starla Dougan, Alma Olszewski.
