DICKINSON

BY BERTHA LOTHROP.

Dickinson High School as a student body is very much in accord with all its teachers this year and looks forward to a splendid season under Superintendent E. M. Belcher.

The seniors put on a blackface comedy, "The Chocolate Wedding," Oct. 5, sponsored by Miss Malone. It proved a great success and they wish to thank the juniors and sophomores for their splendid co-operation.

Ruby Herrington, an ex-student of Dickinson High School, invited the seniors to a show in Houston. Everyone enjoyed it greatly.

Margaret Selensky, a senior entertained her class with a delightful party at her home Sept. 12. After indulging in a general good time delicious refreshments were served, adding much to the evening's fun.

The juniors have a very small class this year but hope to have more members before they become seniors. They have elected the following officers for the year: President, Bertha Lothrop; vice president, Sam Cucchia; secretary-treasurer, Olive Derrick; reporter, Florence Aves. For their class sponsor they have chosen Mr. Belcher.

Florence Aves, one of our juniors has recently returned from a trip to the world's fair. The many wonderful exhibits she has seen will be an interesting topic to discuss with her fellow students later.

The sophomore class has not elected its officers yet, but everyone in high school knows that Mrs. Benson will be their sponsor since the Little Freshmen of last year are very much attached to her.

The grades have not yet appointed anyone in their classes as reporters, but next week we hope to have a full report from each class in Dickinson school.
