

DICKINSON AUDITORIUM—The outstanding feature of the $300,000 six-unit new Dickinson High School is the auditorium, pictures of which are shown above.

The auditorium, with a seating capacity of approximately 800, is of steel, concrete and brick construction and is equipped with screen and projectors for sound motion pictures, as well as with a public address system.

The chairs are upholstered in blue leather, with cushion seats. Stage and window curtains are of dark blue.

Woodwork is white, while walls are of light blue. The ceiling is of pale blue and pink.

The auditorium adjoins the other five units on the east side of the layout and is linked with the other buildings by covered sidewalks.
