Costumed to fit the personality, these seventh grade girls in Miss Judy Kubala's English class at McAdams Junior High School in Dickinson gave reports on famous real and fictional women. The reports included the outstanding character traits of the women, their great contributions to the world, and the problems they faced and covered such varied personalities as Shirley Chisholm, Margot Fonteyne, Louisa M. Alcott, Empress Alexandra, and Elizabeth I. The girls in the picture are Linda Broman (back row, left), Jill Briggs, Ruth Englike, Deananne Steinkueller, Melanie McFarland, Kim Sharp, Robin Taylor (middle row, left), Delisa Lackey, Jan Maroney, Dawn Canatella, Debra Hudson, Nancy Rutherford (front row, left), Sara Garland, Anne Pearson, Manon de Boer, and Kristi Fielder.

Sally Pullen, an eighth grade student at McAdams Junior High School in Dickinson, practices cardiopulmonary resuscitation under the guidance of Mrs. Chris McCarthy of the Galveston County American Red Cross. All eighth grade students will receive training in this life saving technique. Later a multimedia first aid course will also be offered.
