As the year came to an end, the students expressed feelings of both hope and fear. The underclassmen had hopes that the seeds of school spirit, enthusiasm, and personal growth, would continue to grow and bloom. They also felt the fears of change - fear that they would not attain goals they had set for themselves and their school for next year.

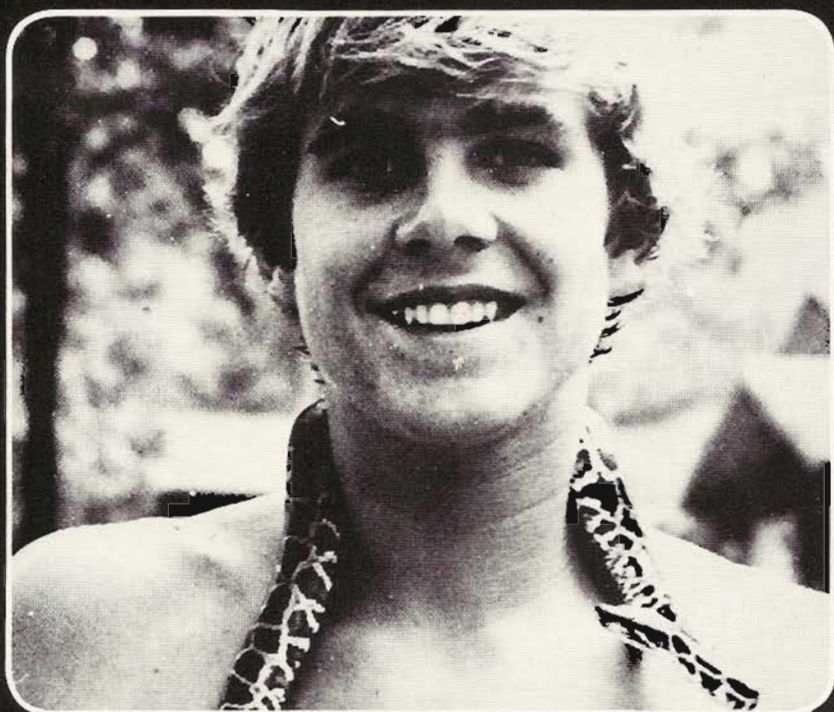

Seniors had the haunting fear that they might not be ready to adjust and meet the awesome challenges of the outside world, and would fail to fulfill their dreams and expectations. Yet the seniors were gripped with the excitement of hope - hope that their "new lives" would bring growth and fulfillment.

Dedication

The GATOR Staff dedicates this yearbook to Coach Ted Gray, a man who in just one year has been the main force in not only reviving a winning spirit in our football team, but has also contributed greatly in the creation of a student body and town bubbling in school pride, enthusiasm and unity.

Specifications

The 1977 GATOR is a standard deluxe yearbook printed by Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas, on 80 pound enamel paper. The headline style is Optima Bold Italic and the type style is litho. The silk screen cut out cover was designed by Gretchen Schultz, and has a blue shrunken leather background with blue and white as applied colors.
