

Choir

Participation in any choir could improve a person's singing ability, but the members of the 1982-83 DHS choir learned to read music and a great deal more. The members of the three separate choirs, the Concert Choir, Girls Choir, and the Singers, also learned cooperation, concentration, and self-discipline. They prepared in the fall by practicing 2 to 4 hours daily for the musical "Damn Yankees." Individual choir members then attended the UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest where one third of the entries earned a first division rating. Under the direction of Mr. May, a new teacher to DHS, the choir also attended the UIL Choir Contest and the Southwest Choral Festival in Dulles.

Guard stands proud

Think of pride. Now think of dedication. These two words best describe the 1982-83 Blue Horizons Colorguard. This hard-working group of girls not only performed with the marching band this year, but also began an indoor guard which performed at pep rallies, basketball games, and guard competitions. The guard put in many hours of practice throughout the year before and after school. For the first year, the guard also had a class during 6th period. Mrs. Barbara Keiffer, physical science teacher, is the guard's instructor.

Hola!

The Pan American club had a great year. The club is interested in bringing the members closer to the people of Spanish-speaking countries. They started off by attending a cultural dinner with other foreign clubs. They took trips to various places such as the Galleria and several restaurants in the Houston area. Many members sold Current Magazines to help earn money for a trip to Mexico during Spring Break. The Pan American Club completed the year by participating in the Foreign Language Banquet. The sponsor of the Pan American club is Ms. Kathy Hamm.

Bonjour

The French Club participated in various activities designed to promote French culture. These activities included visiting several French restaurants, a French bakery, and a native speaker. During the 1982-83 school year, the foreign language clubs shared in many joint activities. The French Club's major fund raising project was a trip to an exclusive French restaurant called "Palais D'oré." The French Club sponsor is Mrs. Kulivicki.

Guten Tag

The 1982-83 German Club sponsored by Miss McDermott participates in many activities that involve German cultures. The club participates in UIL competition. Throughout the year, the club works to raise money for projects, such as Foreign Language Week. The club unites with the French and Pan American Clubs for a Foreign Language Banquet.

Future Homemakers of America

Have you ever smelled the tantalizing aroma of chocolate-chip cookies or freshly baked doughnuts drifting down the English hall after 1st period? What you're smelling is the end result of the homemaking class. (Sounds like a class worth getting into.) Many of these students are members of the FHA, an organization which joins those students who wish to broaden their horizons on modern-day homemaking skills. The sponsor is Mrs. Lois Thorson.

Gator Guards

Twisting "Tornadoes" with a single forearm and plucking "Falcons" from mid-air, Big Al is the terror of the district. Chains can't hold him, Zoo's won't take him, and Samsonite won't put him in a commercial, for only one force on earth can keep Big Al under control — the GATOR GUARD. Hoisting, spinning, dipping, and swaying, the Gator Guard controls this magnificent keeper of pride and spirit throughout the year. They are also responsible for Big Al's appearance at any and all school functions.

HONOR SOCIETY

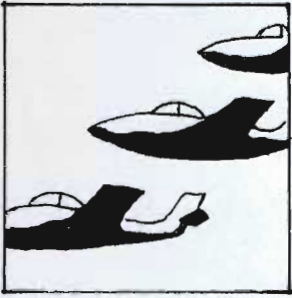

After years and years of hard work and determination, not to mention countless hours spent doing homework, 45 seniors became members of the Dickinson Chapter of the National Honor Society for 1983. These students were selected for their outstanding scholarship, leadership, character and service to DHS. The members of the Honor Society represent the top 15 percent of the senior class and were recognized for this achievement at a banquet given by the local chapter of the Lions Club. Each year, the Honor Society members usher at the Public Schools Open House. "I can't think of a higher honor," said Mrs. Dot Hill, sponsor of the Honor Society. The other sponsors are Mrs. Beeson and Dr. Coppenhaver.

JETS is the Junior Engineering Technical Society. Members include students interested in science, but not necessarily engineering. JETS sponsored a dance which had a great outcome. The club also held a mouse-trap contest during a week in February. They toured different colleges and plants such as A&M, Sam Houston and the Imperial Sugar Company in Sugarland. JETS is a club that is well known throughout the school for their hard work. Mr. Banowsky and Mrs. Mimms are proud to be the sponsors of JETS.

What a year!

by The Staff

Beginning with an idea, a light in the dark, the Dickin-Sun staff sought out stories and the facts behind them to give DHS students a perspective of school affairs they would not have received otherwise.

The Dickin-Sun was more than just a typical school newspaper which covered the usual school news. It was a means to awaken students to pertinent issues which would affect them both in and out of school.

As a result of its efforts, the paper received a first division rating from the American Scholastic Press Association.

Staff writers Melody McCain and Joe Rubio also took several awards at the UIL district journalism meet.

But the greatest indication of the paper's success was its large increase in circulation from previous years. More students than ever read the Dickin-Sun making it one of the best papers DHS has had in the paper's 49 year existence.

Who will forget Stacy Griffin's snack bar expose, the Powderpuff caper or Kevin Ellis' gruesome artwork? All were examples of work that one would be hard pressed to find in any other high school newspaper.

What made the Dickin-Sun special was its unique blend of sarcasm along with the creative talents of the staff which generated numerous editorials, features and examples of artwork.

Speaking out from a different perspective than the majority, challenging the norm and provoking new thoughts were common occurrences in an otherwise apathetic institution.

Can you guess who is in charge?

1. ? No, He's Steve Hicks, animal photographer.
2. ? Hardly, "The Thing" is Kevin Ellis, our talented cartoonist.
3. ? Wright but wrong, Becky "Wright", Hicks, our domesticated feature editor.
4. ? No, he's sports writer Robert Kelley.
5. ? No, she's nearly famous Jill "79Q" Murrie.
6. ? He thinks he is in charge — and almost is, our super editor Joe

8. ? She looks like she is, but she is really business manager Denise Primm.

9. ? No, he's our metaphysical horoscope genius David Kullerd.

10. ? Believe it or not — Mr. Driver is in charge. He has the not so enviable challenge of molding this crew into a newspaper staff.

11. ? No, he is usually in the dark — photographer Ken Cardenas.

12. ? No, but do you wanna buy a paper? Our sales girl on wheels, Sue Ann Reid.

13. No, with high ambitions, our

More fun than work . . . maybe

It bounced off of every wall; it crawled from every corner; it came from underneath the darkroom door, from every table, chair, person, and mouth. "Mr. Driver . . . Help!!"

It all started during a steamy week in July, when our enthusiastic, rowdy group of staffers traveled to Texas A&M to learn the fundamentals of making a yearbook.

It didn't happen all at once, but little by little, our hesitant uncertainties became bold new ideas. We wanted this year's book to be better and more different than any other previous book, but also wanted it back before this year's seniors left for college — a challenge which became harder to face as the year progressed. Deadlines became fast approaching dates on the calendar and we worked at record rate to see that we met them — or failed giving it our best. Mr. Ross Driver, our sponsor, takes that last statement literally!!

It wasn't easy, but it sure was fun and besides, the pay was good. Friendships were made, frustrations were shared, and it was truly a group effort putting this book together.

It is here — the '83 Gator.

The 1982-83 Gator staff editors are Denise Primm and Joan McBride.

The Math Club was a new club to DHS in '83 that offered talented math students an opportunity to compete in an area of interest to them. Mrs. Hunter, the club sponsor, was asked by Dr. Coppenhaver to set up the club for those interested students. These students began by practicing once a week in such areas as number sense, calculator and computer. The older members were able to participate in higher levels of high school math, such as trig and calculus. As a first year organization, the Math Club did very well. The members attended a contest in Sharpstown, the Lamar University contest at Beaumont, and the state convention at Clear Lake High School. At these contests, they received three trophies, and two individual ribbons.

National Forensic League

First row: Danielle Blackard, Jovita Cantu, Kathleen Morvillo, Mrs. Toney. Second row: Michael Menotti, Jim Conwell, Zelda Payne, Sean Canaday.

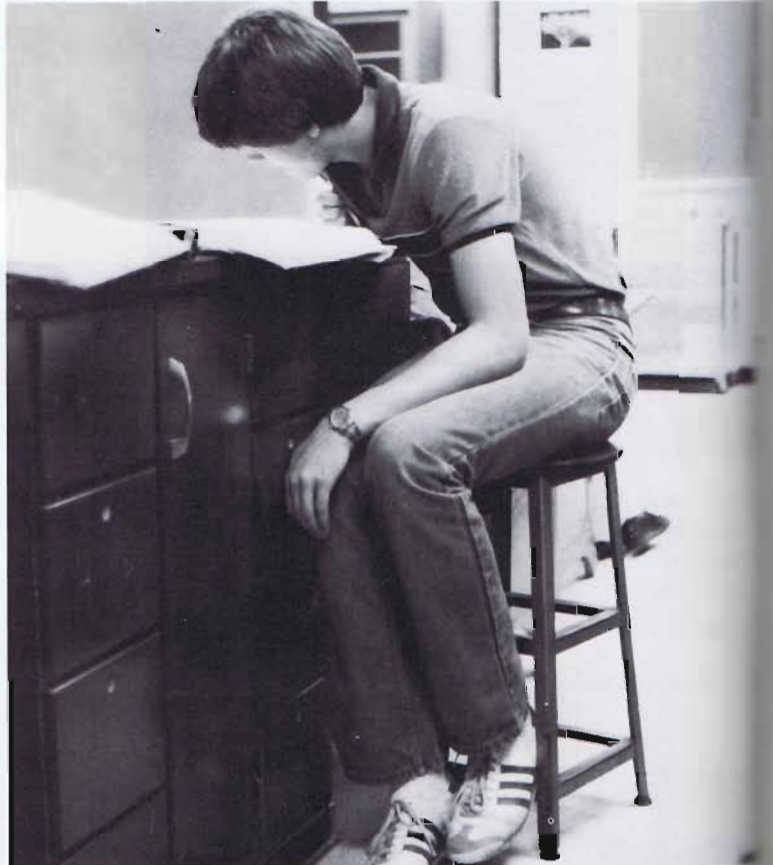

The National Forensic League is an organization designed to help students improve their skills in oral communication. Under the direction of a new sponsor, Mrs. Toney, the members participated in the different categories of debates and interpretations. Through debates, the NFL members learned to abandon their fears and to get their point across to their opponent. Doing interpretations taught the members to speak clearly in front of large groups of people. These skills were acquired after many hours of practice and rehearsals in events such as extemporaneous speaking, duet acting, prose and poetry. The NFL members had a very successful year and hopefully, this success will continue on for each member and the organization itself.

Paramedical Club

Throughout the 1982-83 school year, Paramedical Club members were introduced to the different types of medical careers in order to foster a greater interest in the medical profession. Once a month, the members met to hear a guest speaker who is working in a medical field. The club also traveled to Herman Hospital to learn about radiology and nuclear medicine. Mrs. Corinne Higbee, the club sponsor, also arranged a trip to view emergency practices and Life Flight Line procedures.

Peer Counseling

First row: Portia Berry, Jovita Cantu, Jana Stutts. Second row: Terri Adams, Deaina Berry, Kay Killingsworth, Barbie Reumont. Third row: Ms. Hamm, Mrs. Annexstad.

Peer Counseling is an organization that has been at Dickinson High School for four years. It is beneficial to students because they have someone at school to talk to who is willing to listen to and understand their problems. Each member of Peer Counseling was trained before they were allowed to counsel anyone. The training consisted of 18 hours of role playing in which each member played both sides of a situation. New members also had to read manuals that explain how to go about giving good advice on various subjects. "Some come in just to talk," said Jovita Cantu, president of Peer Counseling. Peer Counselors are prepared to discuss many topics, such as teacher related problems, peer problems, and even the more serious topics such as drugs and sex. Being a peer counselor is a great responsibility. The sponsors of the peer counselors are Mrs. Annexstad and Ms. Hamm.

The Pep Squad, which was reintroduced to DHS in the spring of '82, had a memorable first year. With the help of the club sponsors, Mrs. Mims and Mrs. Hunter, Captain Kathleen Morvillo began organizing club activities during the summer. Car washes and bake sales were held to raise money and Gator glasses were sold early in the school year. The money made from these activities went towards the club's fund. Because of this, each member bought her own uniform. These uniforms were seen at every home game during football season. The Pep Squad members also participated in pep rallies and took over some of the duties of the cheerleaders. "I thought a lot of people would be interested and I thought it would be a lot of fun," Morvillo said.

Presidents' Council

The Presidents' Council consists of the leaders of each organization at DHS. The purpose of this group was to unite all the clubs at DHS so that the student body would also be united. The group started the year with meetings to discuss topics that concern the entire school. One such topic was Homecoming. Each member of Presidents' Council was asked to discuss an idea for an entry in the Homecoming parade with their organization. The Council also designated the week of Oct. 22-29 as Spirit Week with such oddities as "twin day" and "mix and match" day. The decoration of the town and school by the Council accompanied this event. These steps did in fact unite DHS in '83.

Rocket Club

The Rocket Club is a course closely related to the Dickinson High School's JROTC space program. An outline for the club is expressed in the ROTC handbook along with requirements and steps to insure a successful and safe program. The main activity of the club members was preparing rockets from a kit and then launching their battery operated rocket. On May 7, the DHS Rocket Club sponsored the Gulf Coast Rocket Shoot at NASA for area schools and various schools from out of state. Upon completion of this course, the members received a badge with the rocket insignia on it.

ROTC

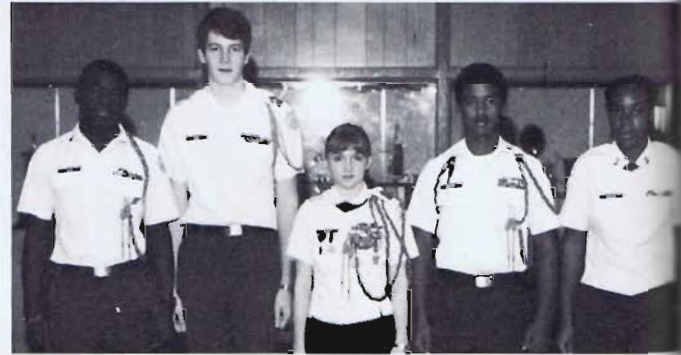

6:30 A.M., somewhere over the Caribbean, these men and women have finished a day's work before most people have even gotten out of bed. So starts the popular commercial recruiting Americans into the armed forces. We have students at DHS who may envision themselves on this commercial and are probably enrolled in the ROTC program right now. The ROTC offers a great background for military careers, but also teaches other students qualities such as discipline and leadership which they can use the rest of their lives. The ROTC, it's not just a class . . .

The Science Fiction Club participated in various activities which dealt with working in a group. The club wrote newsletters which consisted of the efforts of group members. They also made video tapes of futuristic newscasts and participated in group discussions that included drawing, writing stories and poems. The sponsor is Mrs. Cindy Bowen.

Student Council

Name the group responsible for handling all school elections, a blood drive, the homecoming parade, freshman orientation, Elk's teenager of the month, staff and athletic appreciations and the "kick off" dance. If you guessed the Student Council, you're right! Consisting of 65 members, this group of hardworking students has more responsibilities than most people realize. Dickinson, boasting the region's largest council, helped host the district workshop and while there, discussed theme ideas and prepared for the year's hectic schedule. Compiling a school directory and persuading Dr. Coppenahver into obtaining a juke box for the cafeteria were two projects students can readily appreciate, while seniors can thank the council for helping them obtain their voter registration cards and organizing the senior reception at the end of the year. The Good Sportsmanship League, which exchanges gifts with rival schools during football games, is a part of the Student Council and represents Dickinson's friendly spirit through the district. The student council deserves recognition for their outstanding effort and achievements. Mrs. Jo Saitta, a DHS math teacher, completed her fourth year as the council's sponsor. According to Student Council president Melanie Brunner, "She is such an energetic teacher; the council appreciates her devotion and realizes her importance to the success of the organization."

Acting is one profession that, if you're good at it, you could earn millions, but if your not, you may not earn anything. Dickinson High School's Thespians worked for the millions. With the help of their sponsors, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Bowen, they prepared for each of their plays this year by doing physical and vocal warmups which help them to relax. They then read through and discussed the plays to understand them fully. Then came the rehearsals. The members learned to concentrate on various aspects of acting, such as movement, diction, and character development. Using this method of preparation, the Thespians presented three plays during the 1982-83 school year. They were "Years Ago" which was written by Ruth Gordon, the musical "Damn Yankees," which also included the DHS choir, and the UIL one-act play, "The Shadow Box." The experience of being in Thespians taught the members how to take criticism from peers, overcome stage fright, and how to perform in a realistic manner.

Construction Trades

Construction trades teaches students a variety of skills from carpentry to masonry. They learn these skills through classroom instruction and group and individual projects, including projects for the school and community. Construction trades also teaches students how to use many workshop machines. Their sponsor is Mr. Jim LaPeyre.

General Mechanical Repair

Instead of having to take their cars to the service station every time something goes wrong, students in GMR may be working there. They specialize in gasoline engines, taking them apart, cleaning them, and putting them back together. Actual work is done on smaller engines such as lawnmowers and edgers so students get a lot of first-hand knowledge. Their sponsor is Mr. Ray Ohmert.

CVAE

The Coordinated Vocational Academic Education class at Dickinson gives its students a chance to learn skills for successful employment. The course consists of on-the-job training at many businesses in Dickinson and has been so successful that many students are asked to work full-time after graduation. C.V.A.E. helps students realize the difficulties and responsibilities that accompany any job. Their sponsor is Mrs. Carolyn Harkreader.

Office Duplication Practices. These students are learning the printing trade from print order to publication. They are trained on all types of modern equipment presently in use in area print shops so that upon graduation they will be equipped to find a job. ODP students have printed many items for the school and community. Their sponsor is Mrs. Kostka.

Metal Trades

Acetylene torches light up the room and you can't hear a thing above the clanging of hammers. Welcome to metal trades. This is where you can see an ordinary piece of iron made into man's useful items. Care for a mailbox? Metal trades prepares its graduates for such jobs as welders, machinists and sheet metal mechanics. Their sponsor is Mr. Gene Elliot.

Building Trades

How would you like to spend the whole year on one project? That's exactly what Building Trades is all about. By building a house from scratch, these students learn through experience and actually see what they learn, put to good use. At the end of the year, the school district sells the house at a reduced price. Mr. Gene Johnson is the sponsor.

Auto Mechanics

Did you know what A. J. Foyt and Dickinson High School have something in common? The answer is good mechanics. It takes a great pit crew to win a race and, although the students in auto mechanics aren't exactly competing in the Indy 500, they've been winning against mechanical malfunction. Tune-ups, overhauls, transmissions and brake repairs are common opponents of these future mechanics. Their sponsor is Mr. Jim Rubach.

So you say you want to find a way to get out of school? Join the Industrial Cooperative Training program. Students in ICT come to school half a day and work half a day. Sound easy? It's not! Students must work a minimum of 15 hours a week and will have at least 2,000 hours of training before they graduate. Their sponsor is Mr. Mack Dickey.

Industrial Arts

Architecture and Engineering. These are the two occupations students in Industrial Arts are probably planning to enter. This club gives students in the drafting classes a chance to compete in state competition and see how they compare to other students who are learning the same skill. These contests can be important in helping students decide whether or not they have chosen the right field for employment. Their sponsors are Mr. Mark Siracusa and Mr. John Wilhelm.

Cosmetology

Files, scissors, clippers, curlers, polishes and dryers. These are the tools of trade for the cosmetology students at DHS. They learn a variety of skills from hairstyling to manicuring which they hope are good enough to earn them a Texas Cosmetology license upon graduation. In its short four year history, the cosmetology department has trained many of the hairdressers working in and around Dickinson. Mrs. Debbie Winegar is the cosmetology sponsor.

HOSA

The Health Occupation Students of America are preparing to be tomorrow's dentists, surgeons, doctors and nurses. These students are interested in health-related fields and receive a program of two-year instruction. The first year consists of classroom training — the terms and techniques of the trade. But the second year allows students to experience their chosen field on a first hand basis. Seniors are sent to work jobs for half of the day and forced to use past knowledge while learning more every day. Mrs. Sheila Pope is the HOSA sponsor.

DECA

The Distributive Education Club of America students are learning skills which may one day help them manage their own businesses. They learn the secrets of marketing, merchandising, buying and advertising. This knowledge is tested in DECA's simulated business at the school, the DE Store. Students single-handedly manage this store and their expertise will make or break it. Students also work in businesses around the community for more experience and on-the-job training. Mrs. Pam Goergen is the DECA sponsor.

The Faculty at DHS is definitely a unique one. DHS is fortunate to have talented faculty members who work together to shape the future lives of the students. In addition to their demanding schedules, many teachers also take on other responsibilities such as club sponsors, class sponsors, coaches and department chairpersons.

PRINCIPALS

Dr. Coppenhaver

Mr. Walter Candelari, Mrs. Erie Hodge and Mr. Don Jones.

Dr. Anne Coppenhaver works with her staff to help develop programs that they are implementing. She sets deadlines, works with teacher and program evaluations, oversees the budget, and plans for the future. She depends greatly upon the assistant principals, who carry on responsibilities of their own. Two new assistant principals were added to the staff at DHS this year. Mr. Walter Candelari, Assistant Principal for Instruction, has the primary responsibility of working with students and teachers about instructional matters. He also works with curriculum development and teacher training. Mr. Don Jones, Assistant Principal of Pupil Personnel Services, deals with student behavior, including programs of implementing assertive discipline. Mrs. Erie Hodge, Dean of Women, is the Pupil Personnel Services Administrator. Her job includes working with the Special Education Department, and handling meetings with parents.

COUNSELORS

Mr. Jack Wyatt, Mrs. Paula Jack, Mrs. Shamarion Barber and Mr. Don Campbell.

Most people are unaware of all the responsibilities that the DHS counselors perform. The counselors are constantly busy throughout the year in operating the guidance center and handling schedule changes and student conflicts. They also visit classrooms to help students prepare for their future. The counselors handle standardized testing, registration courses, career programs, and head the Awards Banquet at DHS. Counselors are especially helpful with the graduating seniors. They write letters of recommendation to colleges for scholarships and also rank the senior class, as well as the upcoming seniors. The DHS counselors are truly helpful in guiding and counseling students through their high school education.

Freshman Daniel Biggs asks, "What do you want?"

Being the punch line for upperclassmen's jokes isn't always fun, but being a freshman does have its advantages. For the first time, they're treated like adults and given opportunities they've never had before. Freshmen are encouraged to participate in the school and inherit some of the style at DHS. With their enthusiasm, spirit, and good naturedness, this year's freshman class had a style that was all their own.
